How does the Nutrigro Dermal Roller treatment work for thinning hair?

This is a new treatment for hair thinning or hair falling. It works under the scalp rather than just on the scalp.

The treatment uses a plastic device called a Dermal roller followed by the Nutrigro serum. Use the Dermal roller regularly, in one direction, 6-8 times.
The 0.3mm home Dermal roller is used every day or other day and the 0.5mm professional use is used weekly.

The Dermal roller is a plastic device just over 1 inch wide. It has 192 small metal needles (although some larger needle rollers are available) of about 2mm-5 mm in length. Applying it to areas of hair loss or hair thinning causes gently 'damage' to the scalp. This encourages the body to regenerate and heal. This works to stimulate hair re-growth in areas of hair thinning by encouraging local blood circulation and hence nutrients to the follicles. It is thought improved blood circulation in the scalp may also help reduce levels of DHT in this scalp by removing it from the papilla or hair root. The presence of DHT is associated with hair loss in men. A Dermal roller works by getting the skin to repair itself. Under the scalp it works on follicles, the part from which hair grows, to restore normality.

To create healthy tissue the body produces a substance called collagen. This promotes healthy follicles to counteract and reverse hair thinning and hair loss. A Dermal roller also acts as a catalyst, we have found, to increase the amount of Nutrigro serum that gets into a treated area. The increase in absorption rate can be many more times more than not using the device. The skin "micro-channels" caused by the action do close relatively quickly so the serum does need to be applied straight away. Nutrigro Hair Serum is designed to be used daily on the scalp. Scientifically formulated, it contains botanical complexes, which keep the hair rigid and break resistant and help to clear the build up of dead cells around the follicles allowing growth of existing hair. The formulation is rich in vitamins and minerals to help maintain the growth of existing hair. The sugar beet Betaine in the Serum is believed to improve the production of collagen making the hair bulb stronger.

Improvements using the Dermal roller do vary. Therefore, for the best chance of success, maintain your Dermal roller treatment, eat healthily, particulalry what is called in Ayurveda, 'cooling' foods such as salad and yogurt. For growth of hair one needs the 22 amino acids that make up hair-as hair is 97% protein plus vitamins and minerals. You would get all these from the 100% vegetarian Nutrigro capsules. Research shows you need to use take these for 3 to 6 months to see full benefit. Use the Nutrigro shampoo can give the fuller thicker looking hair. 88% of people felt the shampoo made thin hair look healthier. We would love your comments on the Nutrigro Dermal Roller treatment.

Ravi Bhanot
author Hair Today…Hair Tomorrow

More information on the Dermal Roller treatment
Watch the video 'how the Nutrigro system works'